News of Brad's passing was a surprise. He was much too young to go. Enjoyed working with him on political campaigns and dealing with him on major community fund-raising events over the years. Condolences to his family members. RIP Brad.

Tribute from Mauro, Kathryn

Relation: friend

We knew Brad for over forty years. He was smart, talented, and creative. A great story-teller, Brad could entertain a crowd with his tales, both real, and exaggerated! He loved a challenge, and would find a way to solve problems through study and hard work. His cooking skills were awe-inspiring and memorable.

He has left a legacy of a very strong and talented family, and we hope that they will remember his positive influences, and draw on their strength to move forward together.

The Brad we knew was, above all, a loyal man who would do anything in his power to help his friends or anyone in need. His generosity of spirit will certainly be missed by many, but especially by his old friends.

Love to all the family,

Kathy and Bruno Mauro
