Tribute from Laurie Hunter nee; Simpson

It was very sad to hear of the passing of Glen. As a child he visited our house and shop often. He could tell a story and make it much more interesting than the actual experience, as his ability to add the sound of any piece of equipment to his stories was legendary. It was always a pleasure to see him come to the house, he loved his coffee and seemed to enjoy life so much. The family will have many memories to comfort them through this loss.
