Judie was a very private woman and an amazingly creative lady with a natural talent for arts and crafts. Over the years Judie mastered many forms including folk art, ceramics, oil painting, and for the last 10 years stained glass. Her beautiful art will touch our hearts for generations.

She loved all animals and took great joy in feeding and caring for backyard birds and squirrels. They would often knock the on doors and windows to the get her to come out.

The family would like to express their thanks and love to all the many friends that showed such love and support during her short battle with cancer. It really touched her to know people are there for her family.
